There are many personal issues faced by our students. They mainly do not understand how to tackle these problems and resort to suicides.

These problems can be anything from pressures to keep their grades, to remain in competition with other students, to cope with certain family issues in their family, financial problems, love affairs, hostel or accommodation problems, etc.

The main function of this forum is to involve in talks with all students and to identify if at all any student has any problem/issue which can lead the student to commit suicide.

Roles and responsibilities:

The committee is expected to be vigilant and to ensure that the students open up and discuss their major issues with the members. It is their duty to take initiative and indulge into a dialogue with those students who are observed to be silent, non-participative and/or show any kind of unusual behaviour. It is most important to ensure that the students interact and come out of their personal problems so that they succeed in their efforts, and this would prevent suicidal instincts in them.
